dedicated with affection to

JOHN CASSAR

on completion of twenty-five years service to Pickering College.

John L. Cassar came to Canada from Malta in 1951 and was employed in various capacities in the food industry before coming to Pickering College as Chef.

In 1972 John returned to Malta to marry his fiancée, Josephine, and returned to settle in Newmarket where first Kevin - a P.C. day boy - and David were born.

Known affectionately as "Johnnie the Cook" by generations of Pickering students, John has devoted a large part of his life to the school and his work for the last twenty five years is recognized by all.

FROM THE

This year at Pickering College strong individuals struggled with their own question of identity: to be good, to be mischievous, to confront or to co-operate? The crucible of a school for adolescent learners has to be a hard one as it must withstand the temperatures and temperaments that shape and mould the struggle for self-fulfilment, self-confidence building and self-identity.

"Who am I?" That question of identity has marked educational experience since the time of the first Adam down to the present. The essential question of identity is at the heart of educational experience. "Who am I?" is not just a philosophic question that can be answered by a name, birth date, geographical location, or the legacy of inheritance from ancestry. It is a complex combination of all these things and the organic, biological, chemical entity in which the individual finds himself a unique, distinct and separate being.

"I am literate, I am numeric, I am what I am," involves friendships and involves growth and development through good times and challenging times. At any given time we are greater than the sum total of our experience, of our relationships and of our physical being. We are thinking creatures constantly trying to analyze our current placement in time and space. Idealism with respect to identity can become focused in sport as we want to become the greatest at whatever we are doing. It can be focused in the theatre when we, through the magic of the fourth wall, become the character we are portraying. It can be in music where the instrument, the written notes and the musician convey harmony and sound that lift the player, the instrument and the notes into a recognizable form. It can be that great "Ah-ha" moment when the dawn of understanding opens and accurate perception, that had hitherto eluded us, floods in.

Pickering College has a long tradition of helping young people reach closer toward their potential. It has emphasized that character development is the most important aspect of the educational experience and that service to others is the goal. The strength of our school this year resided in the time tested idealism of our founding fathers, "to give every opportunity for the good principle in the soul to be heard". Faculty, students and staff have been and are co-learners and partners in the life of the school. They are the ones who play the games, act in the dramatic productions, entertain with music and enjoy the unfolding mysteries of the universe. "The good principle in the soul" was heard this year.

THE LEAVING CLASS, 1988

LINDEN ACHEN

'Ike' first came to Pickering two years ago from that city of opulence, Oakville, Ontario. A member of Silver House, Ike played 1st Soccer for both of his two years as well as managing the hockey team. One of the most vital handball and floor hockey players, Ike was also a member of the "John Rizitti, I Love You" club. Next year Ike will find himself at McMaster for Ceramic Engineering. Good Luck, Ike.

KEVIN ALLEN

Most commonly called 'Droopy', hails from the booming steel city of Hamilton, Ontario and has spent three years on the Hilltop enjoying life as a member of Blue House. His many interests varied from Alpine skiing to Drama to plant life and his plans for next year include - touring the nation with the Grateful Dead, becoming an actor, and, being able to reach the cookie jar! Looking back on it all Kevin says, "What a long strange trip it's been!"

MIKE BOLT

Mike, a.k.a. "S.C." came to us from the bush-league land of Coburg, Ontario and has been an active member of the P.C. community since '81. He is well-known for his running ability and currently holds the record at P.C. for the 1500 meters and the treacherous Bookers Run; Mike has also competed in both soccer and hockey but found it difficult to complete an entire season. Notorious for his 'after-parties' short but sweet, Mike has become a familiar face to P.C. (In H.M.s office) and is also well known at FitzGerald's, a local hostelry. York U. next year where he's sure to succeed.

JAMES BOND

James joined the community on the Hilltop just this year coming off a world tour with his band "The Squids" James is quoted as saying, when asked to describe his band, "Have you ever heard of Sky Saxon?" James has been an active participant in the Triple Crown of P.C.: - House League recreation, House League hockey and House League baseball! James is note-worthy for being the founding member of the 'McDonalds Club' under the sobriquet 'Sir James of the Ronalds' In addition to his academic marvels, James was known for his late night hi-jinks and participation in the snazz appreciation club. James hopes to join his comrades at Western next year.

MIKE CARTY

A hardy Irishman, hailing from Ottawa, 'Croc' was a loyal member of Red House during his one year tour of duty at P.C. An avid sportsman, Mike demonstrated prowess in such sports as conditioning, softball and the glorious House League hockey team of '88 With a tendency to live on the 'edge' Croc was well-known for his recklessness, especially considering his interest in the art of Ninjitsu warfare. A devotee of Bloom County, croc enjoys penguin-hunting, frequently terrorizing our resident opus. Mikes immediate plans are to survive his trip to Russia and to attend university, preferably in Ottawa.

JOHN COPPA

No-one is really sure when he arrived at Pickering - and certainly no-one can be certain if he will or will not show up again! John is probably the only student in P.C. history to stay in class after 11.30 a.m. Not to worry - he has his loyal pick-up truck, Spanky, to take him home. If he cannot go home, then Big Lou will come and help get him out. As with John's past, we're not sure what the future holds for him. Luckily for John, if nothing works out then he can always become the head Buggy-Boy at Knob Hill Farms.

JOHN CLARK

Student and Duty Assistant, John came to Pickering in the summer of eighty-seven for his second stint under the guidance of his step-dad, Sheldon H. Clark. His activities at P.C. were wide and varied, from a successful sports program - playing for the first teams both in soccer and rugby. With his coaching abilities being shown with the hockey team. Abstractly, John had a very active night life in the surrounding social area, thus portraying his title of the 'Studly Smurf' John successfully completed his work program and we wish him well.

PAUL CUTHBERT

Came to Pickering for his senior year from Salisbury, Wiltshire, U.K. and soon became a leader in his residence, Red House. Among other duties he served as co-captain of the late-night hijinks team, - statues very rarely move by themselves - but denies any knowledge of the water madonna. Not especially athletic, 'Bert' was more concerned with raking in the green as manager of The Squids. A founding member of the illustrious McDonalds Club, Paul liked nothing better than his week-end leaves. He is hoping to go "Anywhere They'll take me" next year

CHRIS DUSHINSKI

For five long years, Dush has been our 'West is best' lad from Edmonton. Chris has been the school chairman for three terms, and Blue House chairman an unbelievable seven times! In sports Chris has been on the Snr Rugby, First Hockey and First Soccer teams. Eternally grateful to be finally free next year, Chris will probably concentrate on early canonization. A psychotic Oilers groupie, he has been known to cry for days over one loss! Good Luck St. Chris, and may Wayne Gretzky live forever.

MARK FUNG

Mark is one of our brilliant brains coming from Hong Kong. He did extremely well in his studies at P.C. achieving averages in the 90's. Mark also contributes to the school physically; basketball, badminton and tennis are his favourite sports. His favourite colour is a pale mustard and this probably originates from the time when a mustard pot exploded at his table in the dining hall giving his shirt a new look! He is looking forward to attending McMaster University next year and we all know he will do well there.

MATT GORDON

a.k.a. 'Head Brother' came to P.C. in '85 and has been at the crux of many Hilltop events. Five successful acting roles, chairman of the school twice, and other important positions under his, rather generous belt, tend to balance his enthusiasm in sports; house league baseball, badminton and hockey. Never tardy with handing in papers, Matt excelled in all areas. He will be taking theatre arts at York next year as a preliminary to an acting career or waiting on table at the Bel Air cafe. All the Best, Matt "We'll miss ya, Brother!"

ROB HARMER

Coming from Sunny North York to the Hilltop last September, Rob with several others, will be remembered as the last survivors of the original Firth House. Rob played on the senior Hockey and Rugby teams and, every Wednesday escaped to the Navy League. This 'navy boy' is active in painting, design and modern art and will be furthering his studies in fine arts courses in Queens or Bishops. Being a great optimist, Rob believes, 'When the surf is good it's great; when it's bad you go to work.'

THE LEAVING CLASS

SERGIO GYALUI

Hailing from southern Europe, Sergio very quickly became accustomed to the Pickering community, hard-working and quick to learn, Sergio was on the Headmaster's Honour Roll during his year at P.C. His plans are: to return to Madrid, Spain, attend University there for a couple of years, then perhaps return to North America to round off his formal education. Sergio will be missed by all, especially his roommate. Lets hope to see him again sometime in the future.

PAUL HINDER

Originally at Pickering as a prepster, Paul left to return later as a mature, Gr 13 student to follow his destiny on the Hilltop in pursuit of ultimate truth. Part of the 'Circle du frers' Paul never had problems in school. Classes, especially English II, were just a 'walk in the park' for him. Professing an infatuation with 'Extra Stock' and ladies with long legs, Paul was often heard wondering 'Why can't life be an endless beer commercial?' He will continue the quest at Waterloo - with it's well known Octoberfest - after leaving P.C.

MICHAEL HARITSIS

A senior student with heavy Greek undercoating, Mike became a member of Gold House on enrolling at P.C. in Sept. 87. Having already acquired his Gd. 13 diploma in Greece, he decided to spend a year concentrating on the English language before entering the Computer field at Seneca College next Sept.

FRANK JONAS

Spent five years at Pickering and soon became known far and wide for his artistic abilities nurtured under the guidance of Mr. Jamie MacRae. In fact, his very first acrylic on canvas, done in Gr 9, received Best Award in the All Ontario Independent Schools Art Competition. Recreational tennis filled in his spare moments between his craft and his good academic work. He will continue his studies at the Pratt Institute of the Arts in New York, and we all wish him well.

TIM JONES

Known affectionately far and wide as 'Newf,' 'Newfie,' or 'Skoobydo!' Tim came to this Hilltop with a chip on his shoulder two years ago. After realising he didn't have to continually prove his worth, he soon settled down and kept everyone cheerful through tough times as well as good times. Although active in some sports, Tim was perhaps more interested in other 'extracurricular' activities. Newf has become a student of intelligence and talent, where these qualities will be further challenged is, at present, unknown.

FEDA KARKOUR

A native of the island of Trinidad, Feda, a.k.a. 'Trin' has been at P.C. for four years and was a proctor and winner of the 'Gold Shovel' for three of those years. With others from the islands, Feda has at times been like a drop of sunshine in this frozen wasteland - especially after being woken up to attend class! Best of Luck to Feda from all at Pickering, and "Hey Dude, Lets Party!"

CLEMENT LAM

'Clam' came to P.C. from Hong Kong in Sept. '87 and although apparently rather shy, he very quickly made many friends. With a fine academic record at home, Clem was a 'natural' for the top of the class with a 93% average. He has been accepted at all the places where he applied to carry on his interest in Computer Engineering and we are certain he will do well in his endeavours. We are equally sure he will continue to help others in their times of need.

JONAS LELLIOTT

Jonas, an immigrant S.A.C. student, arrived this year to further his academic excellence at the Hilltop. This blond headed Texan (Known as 'our Polish friend') has confirmed his overwhelming desire to intimidate teachers. He took part in three House-League sports in the course of the years, only to prove his real interests lay in more late-night activities. Jonas' next step on the highway is to Waterloo for studies on Urban/ Regional Planning.

DOUGLAS LEUNG

Douglas came to Pickering College in September last year and became a member of Blue House. It soon became obvious that he was not only the biggest Chinese guy in P.C. but the biggest guy, period. He was involved in badminton, basketball and conditioning. He will continue his studies at the University of San Francisco next year.

MARK LIPFELD

Ask Mr. Crutwell, Mark was always five minutes late for English every morning of the year! I guess it was, in part, due to driving up from Thornhill every morning, - or was it that he never really got the bugs out of the many different cars that he owned within this one school year. While here, at P.C. Mark has come to realise that homework, study and preparation are the essential ingredients for passing courses and tests. His Future looks like - Sciences at McGill en route to becoming a Sports Physician.

MIGUEL MANSILLA

A weathered member of smoking fraternity, Miguel, aka "Old One Eye" came from Hamilton to dominate P.C. with his sartorial splendour! So well dressed - even wearing a tie when not told to - he was often mistaken for a member of the staff, even in Mexico ("Una cerrasa, por favor") With his Rocco look and his witty sense of humour he was well accepted at P.C. Concentrating on academics rather than sports, he gave up much of his sleep to do well in Relations and Calculus. Miguel intends going to McMaster to study Psychiatry, maybe getting his driving licence on the way.

NOEL MCCAHOON

Noel ventured forth from London, Ontario enrolling in the P.C. program three (fun) years ago, and has become well-known for his elusive 'dates'. He has had the distinction of winning the Stud, (Club 404) Award, and considers himself as a drummer of no small ability playing for three multi-decibel years with P.C. groups. Not having yet decided on which school of higher learning he will favour - a safe bet would be he will continue to avoid any kind of physical activity.

THE LEAVING CLASS

ADRIAN MELNICK

Adrian also known as 'Bunny' (Where do these nicknames originate?) leaves at Pickering a splendid record of academic achievement - culminating in his award of Ontario Scholar. Skiing, Tennis and Badminton at all levels of competition were Adrians 'cuppa tea' and he was almost single-handedly responsible for the formation, motivation and coordination of the P.C. Badminton teams.

KEN MINEAULT

Ken came to us from a little island in the Middle East to complete his Gr 13 year. This he did after winning the famed "Golden Shovel" award for his stories of Bahrain, and becoming the bassist for the P.C. band 'Veil of Tears'. Ken's enthusiasm for sports never quite got him beyond the house-league stage, but he did become an absolute ace dishwasher! However, "Back in Bahrain . . ."

FRANK NARDI

Coming from Etobicoke two years ago with his black leather jacket, the tassels of which are a great true-wind indicator, Frank became well known for his early-morning caustic comments. Frank played Hockey, Soccer and Baseball with equal success and also excelled at chess. He was a good social convenor; in fact he was sometimes too good and his benevolence got him into a little trouble. St. Michaels campus of U of T is where he intends attending university and we hope he'll do as well there as he did here.

NIGEL NOONE

Nigel came to Pickering three years ago as a quiet, shy lad from Trinidad. He soon became well known and was well-liked, despite his natural reserve, by other students. He played a terrific game of rugby, soccer, hockey and participated in conditioning earning everyone's respect. Nigel does not know his immediate or long-term goals once he leaves P.C. However he has been accepted U of Guelph. We will all miss 'Amazon' at P.C. Good Luck.

BOBBY OSBORNE

Born on the sunny shores of Freeport, Bahamas, Bobby left his leisurely lifestyle to attend Pickering for a life of 'higher education'! He left the glamour, money and power of his early life to pursue the acquisition of a more scholastic attitude. Bobby has proven himself to be a respected and responsible member of the P.C. community. He made several contributions including the Chairmanship of Silver House. His future is literally 'up in the air' as a commercial pilot. "Later, 'Slice'"

TONY RINOMATO

For three years Tony, a.k.a. 'Wop' or 'Gino' has presided on the Hilltop as School Chairman and/or Silver House Chairman during his illustrious career at P.C. Resembling John Travolta in his choice of clothing and his charming ways, Tony applied his charm to the local ladies known by many Gr 13ers, alas without any positive results. Although not a brilliant student, his school spirit, positive attitude and leadership have made him many, many friends among students teachers and staff. Next year Tony will be able to apply his Italian charm at York U. P.S. His favourite saying, "My dad did the Dry-Wall in New House!"

GRAHAM SCOTT

'Scratch' graced Pickering with his company for a surprising three years during which time he was always in trouble, but never did anything wrong!" Graham enjoyed many sports but, along with many of his fellow Trinidadians, regarded them as games to be played just for fun not competitively for points. Next year should see Graham studying veterinary med at the University of South Florida.

ERIC TSE

An avid basketball and badminton player, Eric came to P.C. two years ago from the Bustling city of Hong Kong. He applied equal enthusiasm to his academic work, resulting in an average that would cause most of us to swell with pride. Remarkably, Eric managed to live with Bill Graat the entire year without giving up his secret love of calculus! U of T or York U for Engineering in '88.

IAN WITHERSPOON

Or 'Spoon' as he is known to his buddies, hails from the thriving metropolis of Aurora. As a day student, Ian was well-known for his daily routine of: arrival at 8.29 a.m. with bed-head, sarcastic jokes and second period trips to Pizza Pizza. 'Spoon' took part in many sports during his three years at P.C. and served on the student council a number of times. An avid member of the debating, camera and algebra clubs, Ian is heading in the direction of M.I.T.

DAVID WHITE

Dave was this years tall, slender muscular man of endurance and fitness excelling in all sports especially Dungeons and Dragons, Video games and Coca Cola consumption. There must have been many fights between the Sports Day Captains over which should have this budding (make that 'Bud'-ing) athlete in their ranks! Nothing disheartens Dave, not even the current P.C. saying, 'Don't trust Whitey.'

OWEN SIRRS

Known to his friends as 'Slim' Owen seems to come from a different part of the world each year, and he's had five of them at P.C. He's been an active member of the student committee and, when awake, a Duty Assistant on Team E. Concerned with events in South Africa, Owen has propagated info around the campus to draw attention to the situation in the unfortunate part of the world. He enjoys being a silent partner in late night activities and we wish him well at Georgetown University next year.

TOM TVEDT

'Red Neck' seemed to live a nomadic life. He was born in Winnipeg, moved to Logan Lake, B.C. then, in search of his family history, to Pingshu, China (pop 1,000) followed by P.C. to round off his education. Tom was active in all sports and was involved in the Math, Physics and Algebra Clubs. Tom was deeply missed when he left P.C. and will always be remembered by his classmates.

DAVE WOLDER

Coming to P.C. in the fall of '87 from Fort Francis, Dave soon overcame his initial shyness and settled into the P.C. modus operandi. He did participate in house league sports but his interests lay more in the directions of photography and playing in the infamous group, 'Veil of Tears' He is planning to head for York U in the fall of '88 and we wish him all success.

KELSON YANG

Kelson has been at Pickering for just one year and has turned out to be not only energetic in sports but also a brilliant Gr. 13 student. Despite listening to the radio constantly during study time Kelson's name became permanently etched on the H.M.s Honour List. His Bruce Lee type Kong Fu makes him a better racquet player earning points for Red House. Kelson will continue his studies at an American university where we know he will succeed.

Valedictory Speech

by Matthew Gordon

Mr. Chairman, Mr. Headmaster, Honoured Guests, Faculty, Staff, Parents, Fellow Graduates and Friends.

We the graduating class of 1987 sit here today really for the last time as classmates and friends. In a few moments, that will slip away as fast as the year has, we will be saying our last good-byes and perhaps taking another walk through the halls of the residence, Rogers House or even the gym.

You can obviously tell that I spent a lot of my time there, with David White and Douglas Leung! But these final moments will be our last memories of our time here on the Hilltop, after which we will part and venture into life on our separate ways, into the future that may be frightening and unnerving. This is only so because the future is new and undiscovered.

Accept its challenges as it beckons to be revealed. You have a sound base at Pickering and support of your classmates around you today. We will be distancing ourselves from the physical Pickering, but that is not where it ends. The Pickering we truly know will live in our hearts and minds forever.

Our time here has ranged as much as the people themselves. For some it has been one year, and for two select and dedicated individuals whose feeling for the school is reflected in the time they spent here, David White and Mike Bolt, being our seven-year-lifers. Each one of us has become a part of Pickering and will be so as long as the pillars will stand. As one old boy wrote, "People are Pickering" It is not the buildings you see around you nor the grounds that surround them. It is the people who fill the classrooms and the halls that make this school live and breath.

Each one of the students sitting out there today - each one of you made this year what it was! And what an eventful year at that!

With the reconstruction started on Firth House, the New residence became home to all boarders and our one big happy family was united under one roof. Although most members of our happy family got water bucketed through the year, our time together should be considered nothing less than a success. It gave us better conditions to learn about ourselves and our neighbours and with the formation of our all grade 13 floor each graduating students personal sense of responsibility and good judgement was made clear. I'm sure that any staff member can attest to that.

Certain individuals even tried to make New House more home like for everyone inside. To create 'A more welcome and comfortable kind of "Come in and put your feet up" kind of ambience' Thus the statue of the water-madonna was installed over the entrance to New House. Obviously if it made the Headmaster house warm and inviting, why not New House?

But school life could not exist without the students and student would not be here today were it not for parents making the decision to entrust their child to Pickering or in some cases trust Pickering to their child. To our parents here today and those abroad thinking of us now, we, the leaving class, wish to thank you from the bottom of our hearts. Your support here makes this occasion even more special. Your support has been felt and wholly appreciated over the years. Your love makes us strong and it is your son leaving school today. They searched for knowledge and it is testament to their discovery of it that they sit here now.

For the students here who cannot get home much during the year, Pickering becomes, inevitably, a home from home. Our time here lets the relationships between teacher and student move more into the role of a friend passing a friend knowledge in the hope that it will bring success in his journey through life.

I mean - why else would Mr. Taylor ask us to stay behind for five minutes at the end of each geography class as he tried to finish a paragraph or thought as he left the rest of the school out? Mr. Clark in his 'Master-Ph.D.-University' English course known as English II had us read 6000 novels and presented us with 100-mark quizzes only out of the selfless hope that we would become scholars, with the ultimate dream of becoming gentlemen. That too is obviously evident in the Leaving Class here today.

To the grade 12's moving up next year. Cherish your time at Pickering for it will slip by as fast as it did this year, only there is not another year to look forward to. You are going to begin a year that will challenge you, amuse and maybe scare you a little. But, as you can see by looking around you, you can make it. We did.

Take everything the school offers you and give it all you can for you are now and will be forever part of the Pickering com community. This occasion is special too for the grade 8's here today who will be moving into the grade 9 and the upper school. You've hit the big time, boys and it's your turn to make Pickering your own place in which to live and learn. You will see the school grow and change and you too will be growing and maturing right along with it. Demand the most of yourselves just as those in the leaving class sitting among you did this year. And in four or five years you will be sitting in the same place listening to one of you give this speech.

To the leaving class; "We did it, Guys!" Congratulate yourselves. You put in the time, did the work, pulled off those all-nighters. You did what you knew you had to do and have earned the right to sit here today.

When you think of your time at P.C. and consider what it amounts to, do not think of what you gave the school as much as you might want to, but realize what the school gave you. Think of what you take from P.C. as you leave today:

- A sense of responsibility to others and yourselves.
- Confidence in yourself and your abilities.
- Companionship in the friends you have met and lived with.
- A firm academic base provided by your teachers.
- The bell from the dining hall.

Of course, you have given the school your time, dedication, hard work and in more cases than one, your sanity.

Pickering creates the ability of people to act and co-exist with others. Pickering provided us with a chance to unite the world beyond Canada. Trinidad, Africa, China, Japan, Britain, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Spain, Mexico, France, Italy, United States, even Calgary and Woodbridge!

Whether or not you realize it now, this class is a class that is very much together, is very much one. A closely knit unit in which everyone knows everyone. Every one is a friend, there are no strangers here, nor shall there ever be.

Pickering is a common bond between all of us and it will remain with us for the rest of our days. Your life ahead is one that will be filled with happiness and success. It is a long and winding road whose secrets will only be revealed as you travel along it.

But do not cease to question life. As Socrates said, "Life without inquiry is not worth living." Or, as one of our more philosophical graduates put it - "Why can't life be an endless beer commercial?" Perhaps it can and will be for some of you. It can only be found in the future. Today is the end of one phase of our lives and the beginning of another and together we approach the future as one. Ready to accept what life has in store for us. Today we part in body, not in spirit. In spirit we will live as the Class of '87 and that fact will draw us together in the future. It is unavoidable.

My friends of the leaving class and others who are leaving, will you please stand now. Turn to the dedication page in the program and, on our last time together, say with me the familiar words of the Athenian Youth:

We will never bring disgrace to this our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will revere and observe the city's laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or set them at naught; we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty. Thus in all these ways, we will transmit this city not only not less, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.

A FOND FAREWELL

Ian, Ben & Ed

One of the more successful innovations to be introduced on the Hilltop in past years, is the GAP-exchange programme inaugurated in 1986-87 by Edward Dawson-Damer. This years representatives are Ian Stainsby, Edward Cree and Ben Fitzwilliams and they are well and truly filling the roles of Don - Tutor - Teacher - Coach as and when required. The GAP programme is designed to fill that period between high school graduation and entrance to university or career with a useful work experience in a related field of endeavour. There is no doubt as to the usefulness of the scheme to both the student and his sponsor. We wish the three Brits a fond farewell and success in their future careers.

Below, Ed, Ian and Ben with Headmaster Sheldon H. Clark and John Spencer, Executive Director of the GAP programme.

Don Menard

Don Menard began his teaching career at Pickering College in September, 1953 with the then new Headmaster, Harry M. Beer. Equally as important, Don joined C.R. "Blackie" Blackstock in the Athletic Department and for the next ten years assimilated a philosophy of education towards sports that was to have far-reaching effects.

In the fifties and early sixties students were keen competitors, excited by the game, any game, but especially football and learned to attack the gridiron, with Don coaching, with the kind of enthusiasm that only a professional well-trained player/coach can generate. Many stories of challenge and eventual success are told by old boys from those years.

When "Blackie" retired from Pickering in the mid '60's, Don Menard assumed the mantle of Director of Athletics. For the next quarter of a century Don continued to encourage students to develop a healthy body along with a healthy mind, to engage in sports not only because they are fun but also because of the challenge of competitiveness and to mould, with the assistance of assorted Math, English, Art and History teachers, an athletic coaching staff that moved from amateurism toward professionalism throughout the years.

Don encouraged the transmission of athletic spirit into school spirit. He spent many years as the Faculty Advisor to the Student Committee. He was able to implement his understanding of the Blackstock - Beer philosophy summarized by the statements, 'the doctrine of expectancy,' 'fairness with affection' and 'co-operation through team play.'

Most alumni remember not only Don's impact as a physical presence but, in later years upon reflection, discerned a kindly, considerate, caring being - with sometimes a gruff exterior. Don's caring is what enabled him to succeed in the best of times as a recognised Master Coach, Senior Director of Athletics among independent schools and friend and confidante of his colleagues in the public system.

There is no doubt that a career spanning three and a half decades is impressive in itself and to have that career filled with warm memories of people, significant events and a sense of personal accomplishment, is wonderful.

Don can feel justifiably proud of his achievements as Pickering feels proud to have had his services for so long.

COACHING COMMENTS.

Dan Zavitz: The 15 and Under Soccer team improved throughout the Fall Term finishing the season with three strong victories over St. Andrews College, (SAC); King City Country Day School and Toronto French School. This gave P.C. a winning percentage of 500.

During the season there was consistent improvement of player's skills and team work. Their success was clearly the result of regular practice, good team play and strong efforts by all the players. Building as the season progressed, the final games gave the team members a sense of satisfaction and accomplishment. Congratulations to all members of the team!

Iain Stainsby and Edward Cree: Although '87 turned out to be an unsuccessful year for the Prep Soccer team, we would like to thank them for their enthusiasm and hard work throughout the season. The most enjoyable point of the year came for both of us during the last game when Kevin Cassar scored his first goal in competitive soccer. Well done, Kevin!

Charles Boyd: The Pickering College First team had not one of its better seasons. A win and a couple of ties in ten games is not too much to be optimistic about. However, many of the games that were lost were very close and some of the losses could easily have been wins. The First team tended to be on the young side with grades 10 and 11 being the source of the majority of our players. Another problem that the team had to contend with was a few skillful players found it difficult to play with players with less skill. This created often too much individualism and soccer must be played as a team sport.

If about a dozen skillful players can be kept together for next year, it is possible that Pickering will once again have a very competitive team. It will also be an incentive to the players to realise that next October the First team will be participating in an International Soccer Tournament in Halifax, Nova Scotia. Next year would be a good year for a strong competitive team.

BADMINTON

FALL BADMINTON

As usual, fall badminton was a very popular sports activity. So popular this year in fact, that the group was divided into two shifts or flights so that everyone could have court time each day. Every day the flights alternated from early shift to late shift so no one was stuck having late sports all the time.

The popularity of badminton at Pickering has been steadily increasing. It's a game that beginners can learn quickly with limited frustration (unlike tennis, for example) and yet when played hard provides a solid, strenuous workout. In addition to it's recreational nature for a lot of students, fall term badminton is a good time for better players to polish and improve their skills for the competitive winter and spring terms.

Coach, Don Menard.

The following students took part in the cross-country running: Owen Sirrs, Paul Cuthbert, Charles Davies, Bill Graat, Christian Kingsmill, Mark Lipfeld, James Nash and David Pratt. Peter O'Sullivan joined the team at the end of the season.

Practices were held daily. Following a warm-up they would run distances of from 2 to 5 miles. Once or twice a week the practices were held at the Vivian Forest Conservation Area.

The students competed in local high school meets. Sirrs, Davies, Graat, Nash Lipfeld and Pratt qualified with good results from York Region to the big O.Y.S.S.A. meet. All in all, a 'Good Year'

HOCKEY

The jump to the York Region Senior hockey league proved to be a challenge for Pickering's finest. In spite of a losing record the hardest of the team remained the entire season to end with a good showing at the Blue and Silver Tournament.

The 1987-88 season will end the P.C. hockey careers of many solid performers on the ice and Pickering will miss Ian Witherspoon, Frank Nardi, Tony Rinomato and Chris Dushinski. Returning will be Jamie Morgan, Gerrod Shully, Andrew Narinesingh, and Steve Morrison.

Many thanks go out to Managers Miguel Mansilla and Linden Achen and Coach John Clark.

House League

We had a large number of students turn out for fun on the ice this term. It soon became evident that there was a great variety of talent. To ensure that every one had a fair chance we formed two lines. A so-called good line and a beginners line. This enabled all to get a 'feel' for the puck and the thrill of racing after the play - be it racing fast or racing slowly! In the Pickering tradition a good time was had by all.

CONDITIONING

More than 35 students enrolled in the winter Conditioning program Directed by Mr. J. MacRae assisted by Ben Fitzwilliams and Iain Stainsby a perpetual agonizing groan was heard from the dungeons under the Doning Hall. Everyone involved was constantly trying to improve their score in sit-ups, push-ups, jumpies, stomach crunchers, sprints and other forms of torture.

Top marks have to go to Laurence Jones who lost a lot of sweat especially when doing extra sets for being late! At the other end of the scale would be Jonathan H..., whose self-improvement system appeared to be to observe others flat on his back. Improvement could be seen all round and 'fun' was the second word most often heard - you can guess what the first word was!

SKIING

Briiing! a hand stretches out aimlessly from beneath the covers, searching for the little button that will bring instant release from the incessant ringing. Its 6:30 a.m. and twenty boys in the Pickering community drag themselves from beneath the warm sheets to face the chill morning air (with the possible exception of Gord Willard who is always ½ hr behind the pack.) Who are these brave souls? Why, the Alpine Ski team of course. Hurriedly they dress and trudge off to the dining hall for an early breakfast, before boarding the Greyhound, heading for one of many possible destinations.

Once aboard the waiting begins; what are they all waiting for? Edward Cree to collect the helmet he almost always forgets; Adrian Melnick, who at the last minute remembers to gel his hair; Chris Horan, who is sure he lost something out by the smoking area, and Gordy who just realized he was late.

Once on the road, a measure of silence falls on the team as they anticipate the forthcoming race while relaxing to the mellow sounds of Jimi Hendricks blaring from the bus's overhead speakers.

Upon arrival, control over the fate of the team was placed in the hands of the ever diligent captain, Chris Horan, who led the team through a careful gate-by-gate inspection of the course. While these events were taking place on the mountain top, the dedicated coaches, Rex Taylor and Blake Melnick, were busily sipping coffee to calm their nerves prior to the start of the race.

Promptly the racing begins. Our juniors are first down the course led by the perfectionist style of Andrew Gaudet and Tom Morison (that assuming that Tom remembers his number) Their run brings fear to the eyes of our opponents who whisper, "Who are those masked men?" Our first senior member down the course is Wild Man, John Hunt, with his devil-may-care style that further shakes the confidence of the opposition. Here comes Matt Scalabrini flying through the gates with his 'oops, I almost lost it' technique. The race has become a blur of P.C. racers; Jonas Israel (Mr. Smooth) Kevin Allen turning in a phenomenal run despite a bent ski, Charles Davies determined to catch John Hunt and Jamie Ross determined to get Charles Davies; Patrick Verity skiing as though his week-end depended on it; Jason McVeigh skiing full-till so he can strike up a conversation with someone in the ski lift line as soon as possible.

When all is said and done the boys from Pickering make it know that they are, individually, a force to be reckoned with. So, until next time . . .

HALLOWE'EN

All Hallow's Evening was celebrated at P.C. last year in a different way. Instead of the standard pumpkin-carving contest a lunch-time Hallowe'en Costume Parade took place where all the dressed-up contestants paraded through the Dining Hall, to the great amusement of everyone, and were judged by Mary-Ellen Taylor, Al Jewell and Doug Cowan. Overall winner was David Pratt alias 'Johnny the Cook' However, the surprise appearance of the Grey Lady really stole the show! Above: The Grey Lady and her mysterious companion. BLACK
COMEDY
by Peter Shaffer

While the Pickering College audience was purposely left in the dark at the start of the production of 'Black Comedy', it wasn't long before the cast of the one-act play delighted everyone with brilliant performances.

'Black Comedy,' by British playwright, Peter Shaffer, offers the potential of an hilarious, fast-paced show and that is just what the P.C. Dramatic Society presented.

Set in a flat in London, England, the play reverses light and dark. When the power goes out in the apartment building the stage is lit and when it returns the set is in darkness. Hence the audience observes the eight characters as they fumble around in the 'dark.' It's an interesting idea but one which requires precise timing by the lighting technician to make the concept believable. And in Pickering's production, that timing provided by Tony Vega was right on.

Meanwhile, for the central character Brendsley Miller, played by Grant Nickalls, time has all but run out as his seemingly harmless white lies are exposed in the blackness. Nickalls offers a fun performance as Brindsley scrambles to cover himself amid accusations from his debutante fiancée (Kelly Dupuy), his overbearing future father-in-law (Matt Gordon), his sleazy former girl-friend (Meredith Robeson) and his obnoxious gay neighbour (Kevin Allen).

The play offers much wit, aptly delivered by its characters who are often at each other's throats. Says the girl-friend about the fiancée, "She's like Knightsbridge Candy Floss, - a couple of licks and you've had her!" The fiancée isn't kind either as she takes a shot at the electrician, "Ever since the Beatles, the lower classes act exactly as they like!"

'Black Comedy,' directed by Douglas Cowan was presented by the Pickering College Dramatic Society on Friday and Saturday for students and for Parents Day, and the following Thursday and Friday for the Newmarket public.

"Theatre is simply what cannot be expressed by any other means; a complexity of words, movements, gestures that convey a vision of the world inexpressible in any other way."

ATHLETIC BANQUET 2 JUNE 1988

This year, as in the past, our weight room was used regularly by a number of students. As has been our practice every year, we added a few more weights and a couple of small exercise stations. The big news though came this spring when it was announced that by Fall of '88 we would be getting an Universal Machine with 14 stations and also a newly renovated area under the Gym, complete with windows, lights, electrical outlets and carpets!

An effort was made again this year to enter a Golf team in the Independent Schools Tournament. The matches were hosted by T.C.S. Lakefield and St. Andrews. Our team consisted of Marc French, Jonathan Gouthro, Kris Thompson and Mike Thompson. From speaking with other coaches I gather that we chose a good year to enter - never before, I was told, have we had three successive Wednesdays as warm and sunny as we had this past spring! Let's hope next year is as great.

VISITORS to PC

1987 was the year for Pickering College to again have the privilege of hosting the Friends Annual Meeting. Quakers from far and wide transform the schools corridors into flowing founts of information of friends activities and interests and the athletic areas into alfresco accommodations.

The Canadian Midget Girls Championship Softball Tournament was held in Newmarket just before the boys came back to school last fall. About 100 girls from all across the country were accommodated at P.C. and, although they probably consume the same as the boys, left, they sure do pretty up the place, below. Four birds of a different feather took up residence outside S.H.C.'s office but soon left for points south.

Lower Right: The first of the 1700 participants to cross the finish line, Al Cantlay of Kingston who completed the 10 kms in 36 minutes.

. . . and for the Visiting Teams

After twenty years of really hard wear and tear the time came to replace completely the arena boards. Warren McMinn and Des Burke of Ivan Joose Construction enlarged the team and penalty benches, replaced all gates, re-faced the whole of the board surface to a professional standard. Next item will be to install protective glass on top of the boards.

SCHOOL DANCES

The girls from Bethany Hills and Trafalgar certainly add to the fun, especially at Dance Time. But it's strange how Peter Sturup (M.o.D.) seems to dance with his hands in his pockets! Matt Gordon appears a little frustrated - just because he's only coaxing a mere 8,000 decibels from his amp system. Lots a fun at peecee!

P.C. COOKING CLUB

The Cooking Club, perhaps more accurately named the Gourmet-Games Group, held weekly at the Zavitz North House under the care and guidance of Jane Zavitz and Martha Thompson proved once again to be the club to join. International cuisine, properly prepared, alternated with super burgers and/ or sizzling steaks with microwave popcorn for starters and home-made pie & ice cream floats give some idea of the wide scope of the fare offered. The learning process was maintained (accidentally) when, for instance, the difference between baking soda and baking powder in biscuits was demonstrated! Specialties of the House proved to be - Tony Rinomato's Rigatoni, John Lockyer's microwave French bread Pizza, Thomas Kim's Wok Korean stir-fries and anything barbecued by Dan McClymont.

THE HEADMASTERS LIST

In the course of the year students who made a particularly fine contribution to the life of the school are recognised on a list produced by the Headmaster. Congratulations to those students who distinguished themselves by earning a place on the Headmasters List.

Two paths lead to the List: honour results and/ or honour effort. It is a worthy reward in itself and is not accompanied by any specific privileges.

The basis for selection is; (a) an overall average of 80% with no mark below 60% and no effort rating below 3, or (b) no mark less than 60% with no effort rating below 2.

HONOUR SOCIETY DINNER

Although membership in the Pickering College Honour Society is, in itself, an honour, nevertheless the extra-special dinner, served later than usual thereby missing part of the study period, together with excellent after-dinner speakers make the extra efforts worthwhile.

This year the Society was graced by the presence of, in January, Prof. Mary P. Winsor, Director, Institute for the History and Philosophy of Science and Technology, University of Toronto who spoke on her role in the modern framework for instruction in her field of endeavour at Victoria College. In April, this year, the guest-speaker was Mr. Onnig J. Cavoukian of Cavouk Studio, Toronto, who claiming no experience as a 'speaker' nevertheless gave a most appreciated illustrated talk to the Society on his part in the legendary 'portraits for three generations' fame which his family has earned.

CANADIAN EDUCATIONAL STANDARDS INSTITUTE

Visiting Committee to Pickering College

In February this year, Pickering College was visited by an Evaluation team of the Canadian Educational Standards Institute. The team comprised of Chairperson Ann Tottenham with Barbara Kwietriowski, Richard Life, Rodger Henderson, Barclay Palmer, David Timms and John McConnell. Working with a self-evaluation report formulated preceeding their visit and with all of Pickering's faculty, staff and students, the team thoroughly investigated all aspects of Administration; Academic, Athletic and Fine Arts Programs; Residential and Day student facilities; Dining Hall; Library and other factors which go toward constituting 'Life on the Hilltop'

The committee supported the claim that "The key to a P.C. education is strong inter-personal relationships built by faculty and students living, learning, working and playing together." The team also found Pickering College satisfactorily meets the standards of the Canadian Education Standards Institute and recommends accreditation.

AWARDS

THE SCHOOL CODE

*A Pickering Student
Respects the Ideal of Freedom*

He understands that the exercise of his personal freedom is limited by the freedom of all other members of the group. He recognizes that his right of personal freedom and choice must always be used in such a way as to promote the best interests of the school as a whole.

A Pickering Student is Co-operative

He is always willing to co-operate cheerfully with others, in any way that will improve our school life. This co-operation enables staff and students to work together towards a happy and efficient community.

A Pickering Student is Tolerant

He welcomes all races and creeds to his community, accepting them as individuals and judging them on their individual merits. He respects the opinions of others, and willingly abides by the will of the majority when a decision has been reached.

A Pickering Student is Loyal

He is loyal to his school, his home, and his country,—but above all loyal to his highest ideals.

A Pickering Student is Ambitious

He is ambitious to develop his best capacities—mental, moral and physical. He recognizes the value of knowledge and therefore strives to attain his maximum scholastic achievement so that, when opportunity arises, he may make some worthy contribution to human welfare.

A Pickering Student is Independent

He neither asks, nor expects, special favours but endeavours at all times to earn this place as "a free citizen in a free society" by the contribution he is making to the common welfare. His independence of thought and action is never exercised to the detriment of any fellow-student or the school as a whole.

A Pickering Student is Courteous

He knows and respects the customs of polite society, showing by his courtesy an appreciation for the feeling of others. He takes an active interest in all efforts to alleviate human suffering and to promote human happiness.

A Pickering Student is Honourable

He endeavours at all times to fulfil his promises and to induce in others a similar respect for truth as the basis of satisfactory human relationships.

A Pickering Student is a Sportsman

He plays a game to win but he respects his opponents and always plays the game fairly and cleanly. He is willing to subordinate himself and his personal desires to achieve the success of the team. He is loyal to his coach and cheerfully follows instructions laid down for team guidance.

A Pickering Student is a Member of a Community

He belongs to a community which includes those who have preceded him, those who are associated with him, and those who will follow him. He will endeavour in all ways to transmit his community, "not only not less but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to him."

THE GARRATT CANE

The Elwood Garratt Cane, a beautiful gold-headed heirloom, was presented to Pickering College in 1932. The faculty and students in that year decided that it should be used as an annual award to the member of the graduating class who, in the opinion of his fellow students, came closest to the ideals for which our school stands.

The Garratt Cane is the greatest honour the graduating class may bestow on one of its members. Congratulations, Matt Gordon.

The Intramural Panel Award is presented to the House, Red, Blue, Silver or Gold, which acquires the most points during the year in athletic competition, culminating in the final efforts on Sports Day. This year the Gold team, Lamarque Lockhart Captain, won the overall honours. Above: Lamarque with Athletic Director Don Menard and former faculty member and guest speaker, David Gosset.

Right: Sports Day Captains, Owen Sirrs, Red; Mike Bolt, Blue; Franco Spina, Silver and Lamarque Lockhart, Gold with Assistant Dave Brazeau, Headmaster Sheldon H. Clark and retiring Athletic Head Don Menard.

The C.R. Blackstock Award gives annual recognition to contributors to the school spirit through athletics. The award commemorates the ideals of 'Blackie' Blackstock, former Director of Phys Ed and of Firth House. This years recipient, Don Menard, is congratulated by Sheldon H. Clark and Rex Taylor.

THE WIDDRINGTON AWARDS

"The Second Milers"

The Widdrington Award was first presented in 1940 and has continued to be given each year since then to one or more student or staff member for notable contributions to community life. The inspiration for the award came from G.N.T. Widdrington who served as Assistant Headmaster, 1927-39, and also as first Housemaster of Firth House, 1931-37. This award, not granted for athletic ability or academic achievement, is intended to recognise outstanding contributions to such specifics as the school committee, drama, the glee club, music, interest clubs, arts and crafts, meetings for worship as well as the intangibles of spirit as expressed through active leadership or quiet conviction - a force for good in a beloved community. The original plaque donated by Mr. Widdrington hangs in the Dining Hall corridor and enshrines the spirit of the award in the words engraved thereon: 'The Second Mile' and 'Thy Neighbour as Thyself.' This year the recipients are students Matt Gordon and Adrian Melnick, the three 'Brit' tutors, Iain Stainsby, Ben Fitzwilliams and Ed Cree, Teacher Jamie MacRae and Admin Assistant Cyril Howarth.
